

OFF THE GROUND

Therapy Center consists of two wings which represent independent functional zones.

Southern, oldest part of the building serves as space of flexible use. Spacious, open rooms enable organization of group sessions, meetings and exhibitions but if necessary they can be also divided into smaller spaces giving visitors more privacy and intimacy.

Northern wing is intended for therapy through artistic activities. Completely open art studios – painting room, as well as Tonfeld room – give their users opportunity to transform lighting conditions and choose degree of openness through use of different kind of curtains and customized hanging lamps. Connection of the art wing with the garden facilitates outdoor art therapy and relaxation.
